FLAT SCREEN

Shown here on a SCOTT radio-phonograph combination, the model 400A is a completely independent instrument with its own sound system. Or, it may be played through the better types of combinations. Self-contained with TV and sound, it is a boon to the man who needs television only.

Television that is something to behold. Model 800BT three-way combination, with doors swung back and viewscreen in position. Its precisely engineered record-changer will play all three types of standard and long playing records. The pickup is designed to match the full fidelity range of the SCOTT. Cabinet in wide-ribbed mahogany veneers, beautiful beyond description. List price . . . $1975.00 plus nominal installation charge.

Words fail to express the excellence of SCOTT television.

For those who want the finest. SCOTT enables you to offer the very shrine of perfection in a three-way combination — television, radio and phonograph, merged and blended in one exquisitely designed console, suited to the pretentious home or small apartment and, above all, capable of three-way performance such as SCOTT alone has achieved.

Many will prefer the compactness and portability of the SCOTT table model whose perfection and picture-size are identical to the larger models, yet designed for flexibility in use — by itself, on or near a radio-phonograph, or in another part of the home.

The more your customers know about television the more they will want a SCOTT — the instrument of astounding perfection.
